

Food for Thought God's Covenant Completed

God wants us to believe what is hard for us to believe. God's love for us is beyond our comprehension (John 3:16). He wants to spend eternity with us in a loving relationship, in a perfect, beautiful environment. That is the intended result of the everlasting covenant (Revelation 21:1-27; 22:1-21). God's remnant are those who enter into His covenant and who will experience the completion of that covenant. Today and for eternity, anyone can experience the results of God's everlasting covenant.

Do you want to experience the completion of God's covenant in your life? You can start that process right now by asking Jesus, the Jewish Messiah who is the heart of God's everlasting covenant, to come into your heart. Tell Him you want to accept His atoning sacrifice for your sins and that you want to accept His covenant and have an eternal loving relationship with Him.
